NOW PUBLISHING. & ORIGINAL SERIAL STORY

FROM THE PEN OF RIDER HAGGARD, Author of "King Solomon's Mines," "Allan Quartermain," "She," "Jess," &c., &c.

The Proprietors of this Journal are pleased to announce that they have, at a very considerable outlay, made arrangements with H. Ridge 27! HAGGARD—the Author of the most popular und dramatic Stories of our day-by which their Readers will enjoy precedent perusal of a new and unpublished manuscript Story from his pen.

The Title of RIDER HAGGARD'S. New Story is COLONEL QUARITOH, V.C.

And the Opening Chapters appeared in THE "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS OF SATURDAY, 21st JULY. In this dramatic work, the author of "She makes a new departure. Instead of placing his characters in lands remote from civilization and subjecting them to influences of the most remarkable and unprecedented nature, he has here written an English treasure story of the present day. The hero is a soldier in the British army, a wearer of the Victoria Cross, who returns home from the recent operations in the Soudan, to exchange the perils and privations of warfare is the desert for a series of sensational incidents among pleasant English landscapes, and the ultimate reward of an ancestral home brightened by the beauty of a comely bride. The plot is well contrived, there is strong individualisation in the characters; the scenes are depicted with clearness and a warm glow of local colour, while the main incidents are worked out with power. Not even in " King Solomon's Mines," when entrance is effected into the mysterious chamber, is the thrill greater than when Colonel Quaritch unearths the tressure, hidden away from Cromwell's soldiers, the recovery of which saves an ancient house from ruin. Dupuis and Millot. Certainly the plack and patriotism shown by these nioneers of French commerce deserved a botter fate than bergary and aspersion: but incidentally we learn that their fate was better. M. Millet has the Legion of Honour, M. Dupius the Delaiand-Guérineau prize; both the applause of a large section of their countrymen, and, we have little -hesitation-in-saying, of most residents in the Far East; and, as for more tangible compensation, M. Dupuis has received the concession of 20,000 heotares in the island of Kébao, which, as we know, a strong company is about to exploit both as regards its mines, its forests, and its agriculture." So M. Dupnis will not, we trust, be so very badly off, and we hope that his pleasant and vivacious comrade may fare equally well.

Suddenly and without warning the fore part of the Tyrian was lifted high out of the water, while her taffrail went down to the very surface of the sea; then, almost as soon as those on board realized that somehing was wrong, the vessel settled down again. A second fierce blow was dealt her from the depths below some ten seconds after the first shock. This, like the full force of the upbeaval of the waters, struck the vessel aft, and amidships. The screw; high out of the water, raced furiously, and the steamship gave a big lurch to LONDON, 9th July. The Pan-Presbyterian Council continued in session to-day. The report by the Committee on Woman's Work recommended that the time had come to organize everywhere the enrollment of women as deaceness and to assist in the service of the church. While such women should give their whole time to the work they should be free to retire at any time they chose. · Dr. Schoff asked why Protestantism should not be able to exercise an influence in the hospital similar to that of the Catholics.

Dr. Craven of Philadelphia, Van Norden of New York, and Taylor of New York approved the proposal, which was unanimously agreed to. Liturgio forms of church worship were approved by some, and Dr. Donald Fraser thought the Westminster directory ought to be thoroughly revised, the services arranged so as to bo completed with sermons, and the number of short prayers increased. He also thought the people should not remain seaton during prayer. LONDON, 10th July. At the session of the Pan-Presbyterian Counoil to day Rev. Dr. G. D. Especially is this noticeable in the towns, where contact with the whites shows its effect. The flat-nosed, kinky-headed nagro is passing away and becoming an nuknown race. All the coloured children, no matter how dusky in hue, show the change. Longer hair, aquiline noses, and smaller mouths, with thinner lips, are Prince von Bismarck likes cards and has left it on record that he once played with a political purpose in his mind. He sat down at ecarte with the Austrian Plenipotentiary, who in a few. days would have to discuss with him the Schloswig-Holstein question. It was his one to make his opponent believe that he was a rask mau, and so be played wildly and staked high. The effect was that when they came to talk politics he found his opponent deeply impressed with the belief that Austria must not provoke a state having in its Council so reckless a Minister.

The Queen has consented to the publication of and 4,726 packages merchandise. the Prince Consort's correspondence with his brother, the Duke of Saze-Coburg-Gotha, on condition that passages relating to private and personal matters shall be excised. It is understood that the proof-sheets of the letters are to be submitted to Her Majesty for her revision. Prince Albert kept up a regular correspondence with his brother and with the late Emperor William, then Prince of Prussis; and, if all his letters could be published, his reputation for political sagacity and prescience would stand even higher than it does at present,

A colobrated London medical authority writes: I think very few of the English public, nor indeed of the cooks who ester for the public at restaurants &c., know how excellent a result is attainable in the form of 'aspic' by the proper use of 'Liebig's Extract.' The summer season is essentially the time for consuming it. Nothing is more tempting in appearance, in flavour and in coolness than aspic jully as the medium in which little cold fillets of all kinds-fish fowl, game, lamb, lobster, &c.—may be served as well as aslads. 'Nelson's Gelatine' is the basis, 'Liebig' to colour and give the meat quality and body, a little Tarragon vinegar and Worcester sauce to flavour, and a little lemon juice, giving at a ridiculously small cost a perfeet aspic jelly."-Lady's Pictorial.

An apparatus has been introduced in the Standard Theatre, of New York, which in a very simple way solves the problem of securing a cool auditorium in summer. A fan is placed in the basement which draws air from outside the building and delivers it through the furnace pipes and registers to various parts of the audiorium. The air before it reaches the fan is drawn over ice arranged on shelves. This cools it so that a temperature of 70 deg. is easily attainable. While the fan situated in the basement is delivering cool air, a second fan on the roof exhausts air from the interior, thus maintaining a constant change of atmosphere. The arrangement, in utilizing the farnace connections, and in general detail, is remarkably simple, and could be readily applied to many places, such as hospitals, where coolness is all important. For a single evening's work about two Straits Fire Insurance Company, Limitedtons of ice are expended.

During a recent cruise of the United States man-of-war Michigan a sailor, who is a Chicago man, attempted to throw an exhausted quid of tobacco over the rall into the water. His aim observed it. He would not allow the sailer to touch it, but ordered the entire crew to rig up a gun tackle. The gun tackle is a hawser 35 incles thick, and weighs 2,500 lbs. Being seldom, if ever used, it was stowed away in the hold and covered up. To get it on deck and rig it up is a long, hard task, But the gun tackle was rigged up, and the commanding officer attached to it a silk thread. He made a made it fast, all hands made a long pull and a strong pull, and the quid of tobacco was heisted overboard. Then the gun tackle was taken down and stowed away in the hold. It required eleven hours of hard work to get the quid overboard, and it is the opinion of the command. ing officer that no more quids of tobacco will be thrown on the deck of the Michigan for some time to come.

With Christine Nilsson retired from the stage and Patti asking such terms that Europe can scarcely afford to pay them to her, it is good news to hear that a new prima donna has been discovered. M.
